

Culinary Mestizaje

Racial Mixing and Foodways across the United States

March 20th, 2026 | Tucson, AZ

Join us for a Tucson celebration of Culinary Mestizaje—a book about food, cooking, and community - with editors Dr. Felipe Hinojosa (John and Nancy Jackson Endowed Chair in Latin America and professor of history at Baylor University) and Dr. Rudy Guevarra (professor of Asian Pacific American Studies in the School of Social Transformation at Arizona State University).

Community Sobremesa

March 20th at noon

Lunch catered by Cuchara de Abuela

@El Pueblo Activity Center 101 W Irvington Rd Building 9,
Tucson, AZ 85714

A sobremesa-style gathering that brings together the editors of Culinary Mestizaje with Regeneración and partners in Tucson's food and land justice ecosystem, including: Oro House and Chinese Chorizo Project. Over a shared meal at Sprouts House, we'll engage in a moderated panel and sobremesa table dialogues that deepen relationships and spark imagination for future work in the region.

RSVP is required :bit.ly/3Nho5E1

