

Mexican American Studies – Ph.D Second Language Requirement

Students must satisfy the language requirement before taking their Comprehensive Examinations. The student's advisor will determine the applicable language and determine if the student has a reading knowledge of the second language. Fluency may be determined by a) graduate or undergraduate course work in that language, b) evidence of passing an applicable language exam at another institution or at another department at the UA, c) passing an exam designed by the advisor in which students confirm a reading knowledge of a second language.
